R. H. EDDY

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs

No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, Boston

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years continues to secure patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA
WE CLERGYMEN WERE CURED

of Chronic and Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago Sciatica, Kidney and Nervous Diseases after years of suffering, by taking Dr. Fitler's Vegetable Rheumatic Syrup—the scientific discovery of J. P. Fitler, M. D., a regular graduate physician, with whom we are personally acquainted, who has for 39 years treated these diseases exclusively with astonishing results. We believe it our christian duty, after deliberation, to conscientiously request sufferers to use it, especially persons in moderate circumstances who cannot afford to waste money and time on worthless mixtures. As clergymen we seriously feel the deep responsibility resting on us in publicly endorsing this medicine. But our knowledge and experience of its remarkable merit fully justifies our action. Yours truly, &c., Rev. C. H. Ewing, Media, Penn'a, suffered sixteen years became hopeless. Rev. Thomas Murphy, D. D., Frankford, Philadelphia. Rev. J. B. Davis, Hightstown, New Jersey. Rev. J. S. Buchanan, Clarence, Iowa. Rev. G. G. Smith, Pittsford, New York. Rev. Joseph Beggs, Falls Church, Philadelphia. Other testimonials from Senators, Governors, Judges, Congressmen, Physicians, &c., forwarded gratis with pamphlet explaining these diseases. One thousand dollars will be presented to any medicine for same diseases showing equal merit under test, or that can produce one-fourth as many living cures. Any person sending by letter a description of affliction will receive without charge (if considered curable) a legally signed guarantee, naming the exact number of bottles warranted to cure, agreeing to refund amount paid in case of its failure to cure. Price per bottle, $1 25; can be bought or used. Afflicted invited to write for medical advice on above diseases only. No charge for reply, which will contain much valuable information acquired by a lifetime practice. No compulsion to buy medicine. Address Dr. Fitler, Philadelphia. Printed explanations of the disease also furnished.

PRESIDENT GRANT,

Wilder's New Bobbin Winder,

winds the thread on a bobbin without the use of a person's hands, as even as thread is wound on a spool by the manufacturers. This, as every lady knows, is a very important thing in order to get an even tension, and it is very hard to do without these machines, which not only save an abundance of time, but wind one-third more thread on a bobbin. The Attachment is confined to the machine in the same place as the old one, and the price is within the reach of all. Can be seen in operation at

FEMININE EXTRAVAGANCE.—The editor of the Presque Isle Sunrise visited New Sweden in company with a party of gentlemen from the different parts of the State and in conversation upon the wonderful progress of the colony, they concluded that the prosperity was largely due to the fact that the women worked as well as the men and that there are no idlers. One gentleman whom the Sunrise designates as "one of the leading and most respectable citizens of Portland and a prominent member of the Congregational church," said:

"I hope the Swedish women will teach our women a lesson which if heeded might be a means of saving us as a people, from utter ruin. Nobody but those familiar with families in the cities know or realize the utter frivolity, idleness and extravagance of multitudes of women. Women who are church-members, claiming to be religious, and occupying a respectable position in society, seem to think they were made for nothing but to curse their husbands with their never ending demands upon those who are striving and toiling with hands and brain to keep up appearances, and finally fall from the very necessity of the case into poverty, if not crime. There is nothing so wicked as the conduct of such women."

We asked him if we should report what he said in the Sunrise. "Yes," said he, "report what I say and who said it. Unless something is done," continued he, "to stay this tide of this extravagance, and I may say sin, that American people are ruined, and your newspapers and are the ones to show the terrible Women [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] responsibility in this matter."

The Kennebec Journal gives the following for the benefit of business men: "Here is an answer to the question, does advertising pay? A gentleman went into business in this city, and at the time of beginning his cash sales amounted to but five dollars a day. He advertised, and before the close of a year his cash sales amounted to thirty dollars a day."

The average rate of slaughter among the miners in Great Britain is one human being to every 100,100 tons of coal excavated, or 1038 lives during the year. America improves upon that, and kills a man for every 67,800 tons.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Maine, in Legislature assembled, on the first Wednesday of January, A. D. 1874.

The undersigned Petitioners, citizens of the County of Penobscot, in said State, respectfully show that the proprietors of Oldtown Bridge were incorporated by the Legislature in the year 1827, by the name of the Oldtown Bridge Corporation, for the purpose of erecting and maintaining a Toll Bridge across the Penobscot river, at or near Oldtown Village, in Penobscot County: that by an additional act of the Legislature passed March 15th, 1830, a further time of two years was granted to said Proprietors to build and complete said Bridge; that said Proprietors, under said charter, built a toll bridge in accordance with its provisions, and opened the same for passengers and travel in the fall of 1831 and have maintained said bridge and taken toll for travel thereon to the present time; that by an act passed by the Legislature January 29th, 1829, it was enacted, that after the expiration of forty years from the time said Bridge was opened for passengers, said Bridge should revert to the State. And your Petitioners aver that said term of forty years has long since elapsed, and said Bridge of right now belongs to the State. They therefore pray your Honorable body to pass an act or resolve, making said Bridge a free bridge, and authorizing and instructing the Land Agent, or other suitable agent, to take possession of said bridge in behalf of the State, and keep the same in repair, and safe and convenient for public travel. THE VIRGINIUS CASE

The intimation by a contemporary—whose sudden zeal for war has been more remarkable than its judgment or consistency—that the adjustment of the Virginius case should incline us to reticence as to our files on the subject affords excuse for remarking without a sacrifice of modesty, that the letter and spirit of the Protocol signed by the representatives of the United States and Spain seem to be in gratifying harmony with the views which we have expressed No one can object if the papers which were screaming for instant hostilities now claim that the entire and reasonable adjustment effected is what they have all along advised, for no one paid much attention to their nonsense at the time and their present opinion is equally unimportant.

In discussing this subject we have held that the main point in the American case, was the summary condemnation of the vessel and those on board and the shooting of a large number without giving them and the United States the opportunity to ascertain and protect any rights of this nation or its citizens involved The adjustment shows that this was the position of our Government, and this violation of international usage and right is the one point unreservedly conceded by Spain in the surrender of the vessel and prisoners Spain does not admit that the Virginius was really entitled to the protection of the United States nor that being convinced of the fraudulent character of her credentials her capture upon the high seas was inexcusable In excluding the United States from any hearing in a case where it had a right to be heard in determining the character of a vessel and individuals claiming its protection this Government was affronted and an atonement for the wrong Spain releases what has been condemned and held in defiance of our rights

Further than this admitting the impropriety of the former adjudication Spain now assumes the task of proving that the Virginius was not entitled to our protection in which our flag is to be saluted as apology for the offence of having hauled it low from an American vessel. If the Virginius is distinctly shown to have been what is generally believed viz a part and parcel of the Cuban insurrection then the salute will be dispensed with says the Protocol as not being necessarily requirable Spain disclaiming any intent of indignity to the flag in making the capture

Our opinion that the establishment of the bona fide character of the Virginius must precede the recovery of indemnity for any of the parties is fully indorsed by the protocol which holds this matter subject to the facts of the whole case and provides for its arbitration

Our statement that nations are not wont to submit to dictation as to the punishment of their own agents or officials for a specific act, is borne out by the terms of the Protocol, in which Spain proposes to investigate and to punish any officials who shall be found to have infringed Spanish law or treaty obligations And this is predicated on a similar pledge from the United States for the enforcement of its laws against offenders

We consider the adjustment highly honorable to both nations as it pays no attention ... deals directly with the real issues involved If Spain succeeds in proving that the Virginius had no right to fly the American colors that she was using them in defiance of our laws and as a disguise for ... operations against a nation with which we are at peace we do not think the community will feel that there was much of an outrage upon our flag in her capture on the high seas The flag of the Union cannot be honored by hauling it down from the mast ... pirates or outlaws honest vessels ... are not at all likely to be in ... of any civilized ... case should occur the ... of the flag would ... speedy and ...

The exciting news from Cuba last evening ... three ... by which ... fresh st information ... atrocities perpetrated by the ...

The public must be extremely grateful for the strenuous efforts put forth in sending ... vociferous ... to raise a great ... nothing for the sake of ... containing a single despatch ... was obviously bogus That portion of the community who are delighted with the ... of reported atrocities ... extensively discussed at the prompt collapse of sensations We have heard that ... Wolf ... may be repeated too often ... it is hardly safe to assume that newspaper readers are senseless

We have not been able to examine the record to identify the individual but it is now positively asserted that Capt. Fry of the Virginius was the Confederate officer under whose orders the rebels inhumanly shot the men of the U S steamer Mound City, while they were struggling in the water into which they were thrown maimed and scalded by the explosion of their vessel Such an act ... enough to chill all sympathy ... a ferocity which no Spaniard could surpass

The President's Message was accompanied by two printed volumes making nearly 1,000 pages of paper relating to the foregoing relations of the United States Some of the documents date back as far as 1872 and a few up to the month of August of the present year They have generally but little if any, special interest. Among other documents is a letter from President Baez of St Domingo, dated August 18th, to President Grant desiring the government of the United States to establish a protectorate over St. Domingo to preserve that country from incursions from Hayti The request was referred to Congress without recommendation

A Washington despatch says the Liberal Republicans in the Senate have signified their wish that the Republicans shall not class them as Democrats and will accept such places as may be assigned them on the committees by the caucus

Minister Low states that the Princes and Ministers of China have on several occasions expressed satisfaction at the generous reception of the thirty Chinese students in the United States, and the sending of the second instalment two months earlier than the date originally fixed on, shows that the undertaking has thus far more than realized the expectations of its promoters

A Berlin despatch states that the controversy between the German and Spanish Governments regarding the German vessels seized by Spanish war-vessels in the Phillipine Islands continues to increase in seriousness The German frigate Kron prinz and corvette Augusta are ordered to be prepared for active service at a moment's notice.

The best security which the country has against the various schemes for increasing the volume and thus decreasing the value of currency, is in the fact that leading Republican Senators strongly oppose inflation and advocate a return to specie payments Although inflation may be secured in the House, the Senate will hardly agree to it.

A Washington special says Admiral Polo has received official information that the Spanish authorities in Cuba will not attempt to impede the execution of the orders from Spain in connection with the settlement made with the United States. It is regarded as certain that Minister Sickles will either resign or be recalled soon after the present complications with Spain are disposed of

The Cleveland Plaindealer, Democratic, Just before Congress assembled said 'If the Democratic Congressmen vote for Eldridge, of Wisconsin for Speaker, they deserve to be hooted by their constituents He is a back pay grabber' What about the majority of Democratic Congressmen now?

The Cincinnati Commercial calls the Virginius "that peaceful merchantman that was sailing under the star spangled banner, bearing some of our honored fellow-citizens on an errand of mercy and love"

General Sherman stated on Tuesday that he was confident that the Castelar Government would be able fully to execute the provisions of the protocol He knew from personal observation that the Spanish naval officers were the best disciplined body in the world, and that they would obey orders even if they were compelled to shell Havana

Owing to the excitement over the prosecution of Archbishop Ledochowski, of Posen for violation of the Prussian laws in the manner of exercising his authority, that city has been declared in a state of siege The Archbishop has refused the demand of the Government for his resignation, declaring that he is responsible only to the Pope As Posen is a strongly fortified town stringent measures will doubtless be taken to repress threatened disorders. The place has about 50 000 inhabitants and is the capital of the province of that name given to Prussia when Poland was divided up by three neighboring monarchs The people are most of them Catholic and warmly attached to their Archbishop himself a Pole, and no friend to the Prussian government

Tweed is the first ex member of Congress ever sentenced to a penitentiary for a crime although Matthew Lyon was imprisoned for a violation of the alien and sedition laws

The Boston Traveller says that it is reported that two committees representing the Eastern and Boston & Maine Railroads are in consultation with the hope that an agreement may be reached by which many large expenditures now incurred by both roads may be reduced

RESULT OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN WYOMING Gov Campbell of Wyoming, in his message to the third Legislative Assembly of Wyoming Territory, makes the following statement in regard to the practical working of woman suffrage there

The experiment of granting to woman a voice in the government which was inaugurated for the first time in the history of our country by the first Legislative Assembly of Wyoming has now been tried for four years I have heretofore taken occasion to express my views in regard to the wisdom and justice of this measure and my conviction that its adoption had been attended only by good results Two years more of observation of the practical working of the system have only served to deepen the conviction that what we in this Territory have done has been well done and that our system of impartial suffrage is an unqualified success

J H Manly of Maine, Revenue Agent for New England reports to the Commissioner that under the new revenue law the taxes have been more thoroughly collected in New England than heretofore and at nearly one half the expense for collection under the old law

Secretary Kelly of the National Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry reports that 974 subordinate granges were organized during the month of November last The total number of subordinate granges is now 883, and the reputed membership of the order ...

THE CARPENTER SCANDAL The N Y Tribune publishes a refutation of the charges made by the Tribune last Summer against Senator Carpenter which were substantially that he had been refused rooms at the West End Hotel Long Branch by the clerk because he was accompanied by a disreputable woman It was also charged in some of the papers that the Senator was at the time intoxicated

The charges were originated by Mr Ramsdell who was one of the Tribune correspondents imprisoned for contempt of the Senate at the instance of Senator Carpenter The Tribune publishes a number of letters to prove that the statements were slanders The first letter is from President G... to Senator Howe in which he states that Senator Carpenter was with him more than an hour the night in question and was not in the least intoxicated As to the other charge the President adds that he made no inquiry considering it improbable The next letter is from the clerk of the West End Hotel, in which he states that all the rooms in the house were occupied when Mr Carpenter came there, and he could not have given a room to even the President He gave Carpenter a note to the clerk of the Ocean House

The third letter is from Dr Bliss to Senator Howe in which it states the writer remonstrated with Ramsdell for slandering a lady whom he knew to be pure Said Ramsdell, I don't care I have got even with Carpenter The fourth letter is from Senator Geo F Spencer of Alabama, who says Ramsdell immediately after publishing the slander in the Tribune admitted to me that there was no truth whatever in what would be implied from the telegram'

The Times says the husband of the lady also denies that there is any truth in the charges and said he sent his wife to Long Branch under protection of Senator Carpenter

It is understood that there will be no libel suit against the Tribune, for the reason that the aggrieved parties do not want to draw a reputable lady into the controversy

THE SENATE COMMITTEES A Washington special says 'the Senate caucus committee, consisting of Messrs. Morton, Wright, Buckingham, West and Hitchcock, met Friday night to consider the arrangement of the standing committees There will be few changes of chairmen, and none of importance The committee on claims and education will be increased by two each, and there will be proposed a new committee of five members of the civil service. The subject of the assignment of the Liberals was discussed at length. All the members were in favor of assigning the Liberals as Republicans if they should personally agree to it, and an adjournment was determined upon until day after to-morrow, for the purpose of ascertaining how the several Liberals will act in view of the indicated willingness to give them places without their being driven to accept positions from the Democrats. The latter made inquiries today of the chairman of the caucus committee, whether the Republicans expected to provide for the Liberals or leave them in the hands of the Democrats. All the members of the caucus committee, after full deliberation, were of the opinion that the best course to pursue was to assign the Liberals, on the ground that it was not just to leave them at the mercy of a minority which in turn was not bound to recognize them, and so possibly deprive them of any positions on committees, when the States they represented were entitled to representation. In case the Liberals do not object they will be assigned places by Mr Morton's committee, and the chances are that while Mr Sumner will not be replaced at the head of the Committee on Foreign Relations, he will have a desirable position, and Senator Schurz will probably be retained on the Foreign Relations Committee.

The bullion in the Bank of England increased £627,000 during the past week.

THE VIRGINIUS.

Important from Cuba!

Jovellar Resigns!

HE CANNOT EXECUTE THE ORDERS!

Cubans Preparing to Fight!

THEY WILL SUBMIT TO ARBITRATION!

The Feeling in Havana!

THE REPUBLICANS IN CUBA

HAVANA, Dec 4 The Gorro Frigio declares that the Republican party in Cuba is as strong and united as ever, and denies there is any truth in the report of dissensions among the leaders. It complains that too many army officers are living idly in Havana and advises that employment be given them.

NEW YORK SPANIARDS DISSATISFIED

NEW YORK Dec 4 Thirty Spaniards met in this city yesterday in answer to a call which had been freely circulated to protest against the protocol entered into by Secretary Fish and Admiral Polo in regard to the Virginius affair. The meeting agreed to issue an address to the citizens of Spain, setting forth that the Spanish residents of New York have no sympathy with, and do not countenance Admiral Polo's action. They will also protest against the Spanish Government's acceptance of the terms of the United States Government.

FROM KEY WEST—ASSURANCES FROM SANTIAGO

NEW YORK Dec. 4 A Key West despatch says that a draft of 32 men has been received on the Pawnee from New Orleans.

Admiral Scott is informed from Santiago that the Commandant of Volunteers has promised to use no further violence toward the Cuban prisoners without informing Commander Braine of the Juniata.

SENSATIONAL REPORTS CONTRADICTED

Capt. Barrett of steamer Yazoo contradicts the despatches telegraphed from New Orleans, reporting that when the Yazoo left Havana the Virginius had been fitted up as a man-of-war. He says everything was quiet when he left Havana.

THE KANSAS OVERDUE

Some anxiety is felt in this city for the safety of the U S steamer Kansas which left New York for Santiago de Cuba on the 14th of November. No news of her arrival at a Cuban port has been received.

THE NORFOLK YARD

A Norfolk, Va despatch says that torpedo booms are being constructed there. Men are working night and day on the Savannah, getting her ready for sea. Sixty Marines left on the Colorado.

A FRIGHTFUL REPORT IF TRUE—TWO HUNDRED SPANISH PRISONERS BUTCHERED BY CUBANS—A MORE BUTCHER THAN BURRIEL

The Sun says that a private letter has been received in this city showing that the Cubans have partly avenged the murder of the patriots taken on the Virginius. On learning of their execution Maximo Gomez attacked and captured a number of Spanish fortified camps in the vicinity of Santiago. He made over two hundred prisoners and marching them close up to Santiago shot them in full view of the Spanish fortifications and then sent in a word to Burriel to come out and bury them. Burriel left immediately for Havana.

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD

BOSTON Dec 4 Activity continues to prevail at the Navy Yard. The Brooklyn will be ready for sea in two days. There are at present on board the Ohio about 200 men and large numbers are being shipped daily. It is expected that from 75 to 100 men will be sent to New York this week to man the Colorado.

EVIDENCE THAT THE VIRGINIUS HAD NO RIGHT TO THE FLAG

NEW YORK Dec. 4 A special from Washington says that a statement is made very positively to day by persons believed to be well informed that the Spanish Minister has positive evidence of such a character as will convince our authorities that the Virginius was owned by Cubans and not entitled to fly the American flag. The Spanish Minister entertains no doubt but that he will satisfy Secretary Fish on this point before the 25th inst. and that Spain will not have to salute the American flag as provided in the protocol.

JOVELLAR RESIGNS

HAVANA, Dec 4—Evening. Capt. General Jovellar telegraphed to the Madrid Government to night a despatch to the following effect: The Madrid Government peremptorily orders the Captain General to deliver up the Virginius. General Jovellar respectfully resigns his position and demands that another person be appointed who can carry out the orders of the Government. Considering the excited state of public opinion and the impossibility of overcoming the difficulties General Jovellar submitted the manifest expediency of delay during which opportunity would be given for reflection and time gained to allay of the great national party in Cuba. But the strong orders from Madrid immediately to be executed, deprive him of the resource through which he hoped to save the upholding of the authority and interests of the country. In order that the Madrid Government may comprehend the difficulties of the situation and do justice to the order and perseverance with which he began his labors which had already began to produce fruit the Captain General describes

THE FIERY PATRIOTIC SPIRIT

THE SITUATION IN THE ISLAND

He declares the impression produced by the news of the arrangement which had been completed between Spain and the United States can be compared with that produced in Spain by the Treaty of Bayonne, which led to the war of Independence against Napoleon. He begs to assure the government that the immediate delivery of the Virginius will instantaneously throughout the island, which would be sure to result in successive catastrophes even if a man of the highest ability should be in command of her.

FEELING IN HAVANA

The above despatch was forwarded early in the evening. The public feeling is intensely excited but the greatest order prevails, owing to the confidence that Gen Jouvellar inspires.

PREPARATIONS FOR WAR—BUYING CRUISERS

2nd despatch, 4 P M. The Vose de Cuba says the leading merchants of Havana held a meeting this morning to provide for the purchase and armament of a number of fast steamers to act as cruisers in case of a war with the United States. The same paper says that Col. Juninez, of 1st. Battalion of Volunteers, has offered to arm six sea going steamers out of his own means, and the merchants of Cienfuegos have aided the purchase of two fine steamers abroad for war service, and later information increases the number ordered. Several new battalions of volunteers will be organized immediately and the Catholic Society proposes to organize a sanitary battalion. The Vose declares that Senor Soler, has forwarded his resignation to Madrid. Captain-General Jovellar has telegraphed his resignation twice. The Political Governor also handed in his resignation, and that until to-night no answer to Senor Soler was received. The authorities have sent by cable to Madrid a long extract from a manifesto they had drawn up in the Virginius case.

THE COLONIAL MINISTER

WHAT THE SPANIARDS SAY.

Third Despatch—Night. The city continues to be quiet and the aspect of the Virginius question is unchanged. Many influential Spaniards in conversation to-night express the opinion that further difficulties can be avoided provided the conditions of the surrender of the Virginius be changed.

WILLING TO SUBMIT TO ARBITRATION.

They are not unwilling to see her delivered into the hands of a neutral power, and are willing that the question of her right to bear the American flag be decided by arbitration. The majority of the people are determined of the Virginius directly to the Americans and if this is insisted upon there will be a serious conflict. Calm people express the hope that the United States will waive the question of direct delivery. The authorities are willing to obey the mandates of Castelar, but Spaniards will not consent to a direct surrender to the Americans. If Castelar and the Government of the United States insist the authorities will be compelled to abdicate.

THE SITUATION IS EXTREMELY COMPLICATED

and nobody can foretell the results. There is no naval vessel of the United States in port. One British man-of-war is here. Everything hangs on the manner in which the Virginius is to be delivered. The authorities cannot count on the support of the people in carrying out the surrender. A number of English men have arrived in Havana to look after their commercial interests in peril.

CASTELAR'S DISPATCH AN INQUIRY

Fourth Despatch. It seems that President Castelar inquired by telegraph as to the state of the popular feeling in Cuba on the settlement of the Virginius affair.

THE CAPTAIN-GENERAL REPLIED

that the people were unanimously opposed to the surrender of the steamer, but before the answer could be received at Madrid, Castelar telegraphed that the Virginius must be delivered up in the port of Havana. This caused the greatest surprise among the Spaniards who expected that a contrary course would be taken.

THE SURRENDER OF THE VIRGINIUS

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. A Washington special states that it has been decided to deliver the Virginius to representatives of the United States in the harbor of Havana. An American fleet will concentrate at Key West as early as possible, and on receiving instructions from Secretary Robeson will proceed to Havana and there receive the Virginius. The details of the ceremonies on the occasion have been agreed to but are not yet made public.

FROM WASHINGTON

THE SENATE COMMITTEES

WASHINGTON, Dec 4 The Republican Senate caucus this morning received and agreed to the report of the committee appointed to revise the Senate Standing Committees. The Democratic caucus also agreed on a list of Democratic Senators for assignment to fill the vacancies left by the majority for the minority. Mr. Bayard will take the place of Mr Casserly as chairman of the Committee on Engrossed Bills, and Mr Kelley his place on Public Lands. Mr Thurman remains at the head of the Committee on Private Land Claims. Mr Sumner goes on the Committee on Privileges and Elections replacing Mr Boutwell who, it is understood will become a member of the Finance Committee. Mr West becomes a member of the Committee on Transportation. The Committee on Foreign Relations remains unchanged from last March, except that two Democratic members are added—Stockton and McCreery.

THE KASSON SALARY BILL

It is said that the Kasson bill which will be introduced on Thursday or Friday has been modified. It provides for the entire repeal of the salaries of all persons benefitted by the recent increase law including Cabinet and Bureau officers. It proposes to return into the Treasury the amount received since March 4th by withholding the future payment of salaries until the amount has accumulated. It also provides that all Justices of the Supreme Court, appointed after the passage of the bill, shall receive their former compensation. The bill also provides that after the expiration of the term of the present President the salary of the President shall be $25,000.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE

The nomination of Attorney General Williams to be Chief Justice, will not be acted upon until the Senate Committee have been elected and the report from the Judiciary Committee has been made to the Senate.

THE SYNDICATE.

The contract with the Syndicate for placing the 5 per cent loan expired Monday last and will not be renewed. The Secretary of the Treasury will determine in a few days the plan of future operations.

SENATORIAL MATTERS

No formal action has yet been taken on selecting a President pro tem of the Senate. The list of committees of the Senate elected shows no change in the chairmanship of any important committee of that body—the only one being the committee on engrossed bills, which is given to Mr Bayard in the place of Mr Casserly. The new committee on Civil Service Retrenchment is presided over by Mr Wright of Iowa.

NEW JERSEY

FALL OF A NEW BUILDING—A NUMBER OF PERSONS CRUSHED

PATERSON Dec 4 At Passaic City a few minutes before 12 o clock today Speer's large and fancy four story frame building recently erected opposite the Erie depot and hardly completed, was blown down, burying a number of workmen and passers by under the ruins.

THREE BODIES TAKEN OUT

Three persons have already been brought out dead, among them are City Councilman George McLean and Mr Barklay. It is not known how many more are killed.

FREIGHT TRAIN SMASHED—PROPERTY DESTROYED

TRENTON Dec. 4 A freight train run off the track nine miles from Baltimore, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad last night. Ten freight cars were smashed and about $50,000 worth of property was destroyed. Trains were stopped 10 hours.

TENNESSEE

LIVES AND PROPERTY DESTROYED BY A HURRICANE

MEMPHIS Dec 4 Yesterday morning a hurricane swept over the town of Malvern, razing to the ground six business houses, tearing away the roofs of several others and wounded two men badly and six slightly. The tornado struck the Clarksville & Fulton railroad about three miles below Malvern and travelled up the track about four miles carrying everything before it.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN

PRESS COMMENTS ON THE MESSAGE.

LONDON, Dec 4 The Times, in a leader on President Grant's Message, says that 'the excessive privileges in regard to freedom from search claimed for vessels bearing the American flag would confer immunity on open piracy. Such pretensions are indeed short-sighted for a mercantile nation."

"We cannot for a moment believe Congress will adopt the suggestion to prohibit national banks from paying interest on deposits. We do not agree with the President's financial remarks, generally, and think that he is wrong in attributing the recent troubles to the peculiar character of the currency. The advise to return to specie payments would be more satisfactory if the President told the country how to do it."

The article praises the Messages for its moderation of tone in general, and on the Cuban question in particular. England will unreservedly support the policy which requires that Spain must really, as well as nominally, control Cuba.

The Daily News says that the President's language concerning the Virginius affair is moderate and dignified.

The Daily Telegraph sees in the demand for the abolition of slavery in Cuba a menace which will greatly increase the difficulty of Castelar's salvation.

The Standard thinks the only results the threats against Spain will have will be to hinder an adjustment.

The afternoon journals praise the Message.

OFF FOR THE GOLD COAST.

The 42nd Regiment of Infantry (Royal Highlanders) and a portion of the 79th Regiment (Cameron Highlanders) sailed for the Gold Coast to reinforce the troops under Sir Garnet Wolsley.

SPAIN

THE U. S. MISSION.

MADRID, Dec. 4. It is reported that the Spanish mission at Washington has been offered to Senor Figueras.

THE BOMBARDMENT OF CARTAGENA

by the Republican batteries continues incessantly. Four hundred houses in the city have been destroyed. At the request of Gen. Caballos, the Commander of the Government forces, the foreign fleets have withdrawn from the harbor.

THE DOMINION

THE ATLANTIC WRECK.

HALIFAX, N S., Dec. 3. Another quantity of goods has been recovered from the Atlantic wreck, and been brought to this city. Previous to the late gale one of the divers operating on the wreck saw under the gangway the bodies of a man evidently an officer of the ship, a woman, and a little girl. The diver intended sending them up, but when he went down next time after the storm several tons of iron had fallen on the bodies. Operations on the wreck will be suspended during the winter. A large quantity of the cargo is still believed to be in about the wreck. The owners of the hull are using dualin in blasting the machinery of the wreck.

LEONARD PIERCE, Esq., an old and much esteemed citizen of Houlton, died very suddenly of congestion of the brain, on Monday, at the age of 81 years. MARINE DISASTERS. The schooner Snow, of Thomaston, bound from this city to Boston, struck on York ledge early Tuesday morning, in a thick fog and a heavy sea, and went to pieces. AN ORIGINAL CARPETBAGGER WITHOUT REGARD TO RACE OR COLOR. Monday night, the coldest of the season, while the mercury was away down among the thirties, a well known citizen residing on the east side heard a slight noise in the yard and jumping out of bed without waiting to dress, he ran down stairs with the fear of burglars before his eyes. Looking out he saw a woman "coolly" taking the week's washing from his clothes line and stuffing the white garments into a big carpet bag which she carried. The weather was too cold to make the prospect of a trip out of doors cheerful in his airy costume and he stood with chattering teeth uncertain for a time what course to pursue. Finally he decided to pursue the thief, but as he opened the door she, probably thinking he was a ghost fled as if the son in law of Ceres was after her. Then there was a startling scene for a few seconds as the gentleman in a single garment sped down the sidewalk. But though he carried the least weight, the carpet bagger was lightest on the foot and the disappointed pursuer shivered himself back past his rifled clothes line, into his domicile. He says exercise is healthy, but it should be indulged in only at seasonable hours, and with suitable costume to be entirely proper from a sanitary point of view.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1874.—What distinguishes Littell's Living Age is the fact, that with its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present freshly and with a satisfying completeness attempted by no other publication, the best essays, reviews, serial and short stories, poetry, sketches of travel and discovery, and the most valuable biographical, historical, political and scientific information, from the entire body of foreign periodical literature. It is therefore invaluable to American readers, as giving promptly and without abridgement, whatever is essential to them in a great and generally inaccessible but indispensable current literature, in dispensable because it embraces the productions of the ablest writers in science, fiction, poetry, history, biography, politics, theology, philosophy, criticism and art.

Among the eminent authors lately represented in its pages are Prof Max Muller, Prof Tyndall, Prof. Huxley, Lord Lytton (Bulwer), Fritz Reuter, the popular German novelist, MM. Erckmann-Chatrian, the distinguished French writers, Ivan Turguenieff, the eminent Russian author, Mrs. Oliphant, Dr. W. B Carpenter, Miss Thackeray, Charles Kingsley, Prof R. A. Proctor, Miss Muloch, Mathew Arnold, Jean Ingelow, George MacDonald, Froude, Gladstone, and many others.

A new series was begun January 1, 1873, which already embraces serial and short stories by noted English, French, German and Russian authors, viz. Lord Lytton, Erckmann-Chatrian, Fritz Reuter, Ivan Turguenieff, Mrs Oliphant, Mrs. Parr, author of "Dorothy Fox" Miss Macquoid, author of "Patty," Miss Thackeray, Julia Cavanagh, etc. And during the coming year, as heretofore, besides the choicest fiction by the leading foreign authors, will be given the usual amount, unapproached by any other periodical, of the best literary and scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the above named, and many other ablest living contributors to current literature.

The leading critical authorities pronounce The Living Age "the chief of the eclectics", and in the great multiplicity of quarterlies, monthlies and weeklies, it has become a necessity to every person or family desiring a thorough compendium of the admirable and noteworthy in the literary world.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished, but the publishers (Littell & Gay, Boston) offer to send the last six numbers of 1873 gratis to new subscribers remitting $8 for 1874 or to send the numbers of 1873 and 1874 (104 Nos.) to those wishing to begin with the new series for $13 or to send to those preferring any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with The Living Age for a year for $10. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American periodicals, a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation." Certainly the amount of the best current literature of the world, thus offered, can not otherwise be obtained so economically, and the more one is inclined to limit the number of his periodicals, the stronger is the reason for taking The Living Age for 1874.

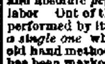
The Application of Steam Power to Dentistry



And in making this announcement, I desire also to put upon record as a matter of fact that I am the first operator in the world who has put into practical use, steam power in dentistry. For the past two months I have used it daily in every operation I have performed and I even excessively timid patients are delighted and charmed with the ease and absolute perfection with which it performs its labor. Out of the many who have had operations performed by its aid there has never been one not a single one who has expressed a preference for the old hand methods, but upon the contrary each one has been marked and profuse in their praise of this the latest application of steam power. Very much might be said in its commendation, but the limits of an advertisement forbid, suffice it to say realizing the facts fully, that were I to recommend anything in my practice which did not meet the approbation of my patients, it would be absolutely fatal to me, yet, so thoroughly does this meet the wishes of all my patients as well as myself that I feel warranted in giving it a hearty and emphatic endorsement as the nearest approach to perfection which can possibly be imagined. The superiority of its work is beyond all comparison. Having understood that a certain interested party in this city is crying out 'danger from explosion' to his patients, I desire to call attention to the following card from Mr Sullivan, prefacing it with the remark that I never desire to use over thirty pounds steam pressure which every patient can see by the gauge for themselves. After reading this card, let all such parties forever hold their peace. Since it will be seen that the boiler has been constructed to carry 500—five hundred—pounds pressure per square inch, whereas, I use but 30—thirty.

CARD.

This is to certify that I, Daniel Sullivan of Bangor, Steam Boiler Manufacturer, have just completed, to the order of Dr. J F Babcock, one of my patent upright Tubular Steam Boilers made with the special intent and purpose of having it to exceedingly safe and strong as to stand under ordinary every day usage, if required, 500 pounds pressure per square inch, and I hereby guarantee that its strength is such as to safely stand a much greater pressure, if necessary, than the said 500 pounds per square inch.

PRAYER A LA MODE

Make me to others' failings blind—
(Miss Smith's new bonnet's quite a fright behind!)

Wake in me a pity for the suffering poor—
(There comes that contribution box once more!)

Take from my soul all feeling covetous—
(I'll have a shawl like that or make a fuss)

Let love for all my kind my spirit stir—
(Save Mrs. Jones! I'll never speak to her!)

Let me in Truth's fair pages take delight—
(I'll read that other novel through to-night)

Make me contented with my earthly state—
(I wish I'd married rich. But it's too late!)

Give me a heart of faith in all my kind—
(Miss Brown's as big a hypocrite as you'll find!)

Help me to see myself as others see
(This dress is just becoming unto me)

Let me attend no fashion school, I appeal—
(I wonder if they think these curls are real)

Make my heart of humility the fount—
(How glad I am our pew's so near the front!)

Fill me with patience and strength to wait—
(I know he'll preach until our dinner's late!)

Take from my heart each grain of self conceit—
(I'm sure the gentlemen must think me sweet!)

Let saintly wisdom be my daily food—
(I wonder what they'll have for dinner good!)

Let not my feet rebel in the road to light—
(Nobody knows how these shoes pinch and bite!)

In this world teach me to deserve the next—
(Church out! Charles, do you recollect the text?)

STUFFING THE THANKSGIVING TURKEY

BY MRS. H. G. ROWE

(Concluded.)

"I would rather die to-day," she murmured passionately, and her courage rising with her desperation, "I'll tell father so this very night. I cannot and will not endure this any longer," and firm in her resolve, she went about her duties with a lightened heart and step intent, for the time, upon the production of a dinner that should vindicate her claim to the title of the best cook in town.

And the dinner was a success, as father Harris had foreseen when he invited his friends to share it with him. The potato, squash and turnip were mashed smooth as cream and seasoned to perfection, the cranberry sauce was, for a wonder, sweetened sufficiently, the pickles were so crisp and green as to call forth Mrs. Toothacre's house-wifely commendation and the turkey—but Ben Toothacre can speak for that.

"I guess I'll take another spoonful of the stuffin', Mr. Harris," he remarked, stretching his plate half way across the table and bringing his coat sleeve in close proximity to the butter. "I must say it's about the best stuff I ever tasted. I could just eat my weight in it. It's too bad ma'am," with a facetious wink at that venerable dame, "that you can't eat stuffin'. You don't know how good it is."

The old lady shook her head regretfully. "I rally can't, it always brings on my stomach, and besides," the regret deepened to a doleful solemnity, "I never can relish turkey sence my poor husband was taken ten years ago this Thanksgiving. You see [a beetle] more of the grave, Mr. Harris,) he was dreadful fond o' them turkeys, an' the day before Thanksgivin' he brought home one o' the finest ones that I ever put my eyes on, an' says he 'now Clothy do yer prettiest,' so I did an' I dressed it jest as he liked best in jacket an' trowsers, an' —"

"In what?" interrupted Susy in comical amazement.

"Why, with slices o' bacon, of course, what else should I mean?" retorted the speaker a little tartly. "An' I put it on the table, an' he helped me to a piece, an' then he helped himself to a piece an' then he helped himself to a good big piece, an' just as he was a puttin' the first mouthful to his lips he fell back in a fit an' died before we got to 'im, an' he never [illegible] that last turkey [illegible]."

The last words were spoken in a dolorous drawl, in contrast so comically with the placid self-satisfied face of the speaker that Susy could not command herself sufficiently to utter the stereotyped words of condolence that the widow evidently expected, and an awkward pause ensued, broken at last by father Harris, who remarked, with an effort to appear at ease, "You're in the same pew with me in regard to stuffing. It always disagrees with me, and I haven't tasted any for years, while Susy here won't eat it on account of the onions in it."

Ben laughed uproariously.

"That's a good one!" he cried, as soon as he could get his mouth clear enough to speak. "Who cares if their breath does smell of onions Thanksgiving day? I'll give you leave to eat 'em, Susy, an' if I can stand it, I guess you can," with a leer that made him more disagreeable than ever, while even father Harris looked disgusted for the moment with his coarse assurance.

The dessert was duly discussed and praised [illegible], growing fairly enthusiastic over

"What I call mince pie, Ma'am," taking a huge mouthful and smacking his lips with an air of intense satisfaction. "None o' your mean sort o' dried up things, with a crust like sole leather. This is the kind that a man could plough all day on."

"I shouldn't be afraid to set Susy's mince pies alongside the best cooks in the county," added father Harris with a prideful glance at the white flaky crust and delicately flavored contents of the pastry before him.

"I wanted her to send some of her cookery to the county fair—you know they offered premiums for the best bread and pies—but she wouldn't."

"Why not?" queried Ben, earnestly. "If you had only wanted to go, I could a taken 'em along just as well as not. They might a had a good luck as my Berkshires did. You know I got the premium for them, or to Susy. Yes, yes."

It was father Harris who answered, and as he spoke he rose rather hurriedly from the table, anxious to remove the guests for a while from under Susy's critical eyes while he trusted to his own wit and shrewdness to lead the conversation into some more safe and congenial channel by the time that she would be ready to join in it again.

The table was cleared and everything in its place only too soon and Susy removed with a sigh her white check apron and with slow and reluctant steps sought the parlor where her visitors were seated in solitary state, for her father had been obliged to absent himself for an hour to attend to some of his farm duties and the mother and son had necessarily been left to find what entertainment they could in each other's society—not very lively entertainment Susy thought, as, on entering the room, she caught sight of the old lady fast asleep in the easy chair, while her hopeful son, evidently exhausted with his trenchant duties, lay sprawled out upon the sofa, his clumsy heels in the air, and his well greased head resting upon the pretty embroidered sofa pillow that she had spent so many precious hours in fashioning.

"The boor!" she thought with a glance of intense disgust at the recumbent figure, asleep, as she supposed, but as she passed he gave her dress a sudden pull, and as she paused with a look of angry astonishment in her eyes, he whispered with a significant nod in the direction of his sleeping parent:

"Set down, just a minute, Susy. I want to tell you something—that's, so the Ma'am won't hear."

Susy gave her dress an angry jerk, and seating herself beyond the reach of his arm, she said, with a frostiness that would have silenced a more observant and less conceited lover:

"If you have anything to say, you have no occasion to whisper it. I don't imagine your mother will mind having her nap disturbed."

But before she had finished speaking he was at her side.

"I've had my eye on you this long while," he said, in a tone that was meant to be tender, "and I've made up my mind to"—he paused; a sudden paleness overspread his face and he grasped at a chair back for support.

"I—I believe I'm sick!" he gasped, and falling back upon the sofa, he groaned heavily.

"What's the matter—what ails you, Bennie?" and Mrs. Toothacre roused from her nap, hurried to her son's side.

"Is it your head?" questioned Susy, frightened and trembling at the dreadful pallor of his face, while visions of sudden apoplexy, hereditary perhaps, rose in horrible array before her.

"Oh, no," moaned the sufferer, feebly, "it's my—my stomach—ough!"

And Susy ran for a wash basin.

She understood it all now,—"the fool had over eaten himself," she thought, with a sudden diminution of sympathy, and there was more of ridicule than pity in her tones as she recommended her father's favorite remedy for all diseases of the digestive organs, a good dose of lobelia.

"It won't hurt you," she said, trying hard to smother a laugh at the ridiculous inappropriateness of the scene and place, the doleful air of the sufferer and his mother's distressful sympathy, "and it may do you good. Father has great faith in it."

But the patient shook his head decidedly, and his mother whispered, under her breath:

"He don't believe in any kind o' hot drop medicines, and he'll feel better when he gets that load off of his stomach."

But the hopeful prophecy seemed slow of fulfillment for the sick man grew worse instead of better, until even Susy began to look frightened and glanced anxiously from the window, hoping to catch sight of her father whose experience in sickness had made him quite an authority, both in the neighborhood and his own family.

"There he is!" and running to meet him, she told him of their guest's sudden attack, winding up with the half frightened declaration

"I'm afraid this is something more than a common attack of indigestion. You don't suppose," catching at her father's arm, as he was about to enter the door, and speaking in a terrified whisper, "that he could have been poisoned?"

"Nonsense, child!" and he laughed, not ill pleased to see, as he thought, some traces of tender anxiety in his daughter's words and tones, but his face grew grave and there was a marked uneasiness in his manner as he watched the painful retchings of his patient.

"I'm afraid there's something more than we understand in this, Susy," he whispered. "It does look," with a glance at the distressed face, "as if he had taken something besides wholesome food into his stomach. I think I'd better go for the doctor,—and if he'll take it, perhaps you'd better fix a little lobelia for him. It'll warm his stomach, an' perhaps turn his sickness."

"Oh, dear!" groaned the suffering youth, "to think that I should be took like this jest now," and he cast a mournfully significant glance at Susy's now anxious face, while his mother interrupted, soothingly:

"Oh, law! I wouldn't mind that. You couldn't be in a better place, with Susy an' me both to wait on ye. Come," with an entreating look at the young girl, "and hold his head for 'im. Won't you? now, do."

But Susy shook her head, with an ill repressed look of disgust, and the sick man groaned more dismally than before.

"Won't you try the lobelia?"

There was a compunctious softening in her tones that the patient evidently mistook for tenderness, for his heavy featured face bright ened and he murmured resignedly.

"Yes, yes, I'll take anything you give me."

And Susy hurried away, glad of the permission to do something that should satisfy her sense of duty and, at the same time, take her out of the reach of any possible calls upon the small stock of patience and politeness that the petty annoyances of the day had left her.

The lobelia was in the herb closet, and as she drew the bundle hastily from its niche upon the upper shelf, the stems dropped apart in her hand, several falling at her feet. "I am sure I tied them together," she said to herself, and, as she stooped to pick up the scattered ones, her eye fell upon the paper label that had dropped from the bunch of summer savory the evening before, and, with habitual care, she paused for a moment to readjust it in its place.

But what was this? The summer savory, with its label untouched, lay undisturbed upon the shelf where she had placed it weeks ago,—but that—she read the unexamined label

LOBELIA.

Bewilderment, confusion, mirth chased each other in rapid succession over the girl's expressive face, and dropping into the nearest chair, she laughed till the tears ran down her cheeks.

"To think that I should have made such a mistake!" she gasped between her paroxysms of laughter. "What will Ben Toothacre say to his cruelty, I wonder?"

Then, as a sudden thought crossed her mind, her eyes fairly danced with delight and triumph, and springing to her feet she hastened into the parlor, and approaching the sofa, remarked, in the most matter of fact tones:

"I've found out what ails your son, Mrs. Toothacre. I made a mistake in the season ing of my turkey stuffing and put in lobelia instead of summer savory."

"Lobelia?"

Ben grew white about the mouth, and his mother's faded eyes absolutely blazed with wrath.

"I should think 'twas a mistake!" she cried spitefully. "What on 'arth was you thinkin' on ter make sich a blunder as that? A child ten years old would 'a' had more wit 'n ter cut up sich a caper."

Susy was inwardly delighted, but she put on an air of wounded dignity.

"He'll get over it as soon as the emetic has had time to work," she said so coolly that Mrs. Toothacre could hardly forbear shaking her.

"He'll never want to eat any more of your victuals," she retorted, with what she considered cutting sarcasm, and as her son seemed considerably revived, she began to urge their departure for home, but Susy interposed.

"Don't hurry him," she said, with a politeness that the aggrieved fair took as an additional insult.

"The doctor will be here soon and perhaps he'll give him something to settle his stomach,—you'd better wait."

But Ben, like his mother, thought it best to seek the shelter and safety of their own home and as Susy went to bring their wrappings, she overheard the old lady asking, in a tone of intense anxiety

"You hain't committed yourself, have ye, Bennie?"

"No, ma'am, I'm glad to say I hain't."

"That's lucky," replied the dame, with a sigh of relief. "Why, there ain't no knowin' what sich an absent minded woman'd do—Like as not she'd a' put tansy in your sassages an' fill up the pepper sass bottle with balm gilead buds. She ain't fit to be trusted to cook for decent folks."

"She won't never cook for me," growled Ben and Susy, who heard it all, laughed triumphantly in her sleeve.

Ben Toothacre never renewed his unwelcome attentions, and father Harris ate his next Thanksgiving dinner at the house of his daughter, Mrs. John Oakman, whose reputation as a model housekeeper is now too well established in the community to suffer injury from the significant hints of old Mrs. Toothacre and her still unmarried son, who to this day date everything from that Thanksgiving dinner when Susy Harris seasoned her turkey stuffed with lobelia."—Portland Transcript

Prospectus for 1874,

Seventh Year

The Aldine,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of steel plates is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will at a trifling cost enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thomas Moran and J D Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season by our best artists and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors

PREMIUM FOR 1874

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in the White Mountains, New Hampshire, the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates and are in size (12x16) and appearance exact facsimiles of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself

NEWARK, N J, Sept 20th, 1873.

MESSRS. JAMES SUTTON & CO

Gentlemen,—I am delighted with the proofs in color of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings

Very respectfully,
(Signed,) THOS. MORAN.

These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free!

For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtained only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate, cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of JAMES SUTTON & CO.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Passed at the Third Session of the Forty-second Congress.

Convention between the United States of America and Denmark. Naturalization. Concluded July 20, 1872, Ratified January 22, 1873, Ratifications exchanged March 14, 1873, Proclaimed April 15, 1873.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas a convention between the United States of America and His Majesty the King of Denmark, relative to the naturalization of citizens and subjects of the two countries, was concluded and signed at Copenhagen by their respective plenipotentiaries on the twentieth day of July, 1872, the original of which convention being in the English and Danish languages, is word for word as follows.

The United States of America and His Majesty the King of Denmark being desirous to regulate the citizenship of the citizens of the United States of America who have emigrated, or who may emigrate, from the United States of America to the Kingdom of Denmark, and of Danish subjects who have emigrated, or who may emigrate, from the Kingdom of Denmark to the United States of America, have resolved to conclude a convention for that purpose and have named as their plenipotentiaries, that is to say, the President of the United States of America, Michael J Cramer, minister resident of the United States of America at Copenhagen, and His Majesty the King of Denmark, Otto Ditlev, Baron Rosenorn-Lehn, commander of Danebrog and Danebrogsmand, chamberlain, His Majesty's minister for foreign affairs, &c., &c., &c

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers found to be in good and due form, having agreed upon and concluded the following articles, to wit

ARTICLE I

Citizens of the United States of America who have become or shall become, and are, naturalized, according to law within the Kingdom of Denmark as Danish subjects, shall be held by the United States of America to be in all respects and for all purposes Danish subjects, and shall be treated as such by the United States of America.

In like manner, Danish subjects who have become or shall become, and are naturalized, according to law, within the United States of America as citizens thereof, shall be held by the Kingdom of Denmark to be in all respects and for all purposes as citizens of the United States of America, and shall be treated as such by the Kingdom of Denmark.

ARTICLE II

If any such citizen of the United States, as aforesaid, naturalized within the Kingdom of Denmark as a Danish subject, should renew his residence in the United States, the United States government may, on his application, and on such conditions as that government may see fit to impose, readmit him to the character and privileges of a citizen of the United States, and the Danish government shall not, in that case, claim him as a Danish subject on account of his former naturalization.

TREATY.

Agreement between the United States and Spain, for the Settlement of certain Claims of Citizens of the United States, made by Daniel E Sickles, Esq Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at Madrid, and His Excellency Senor Don Cristino Martos Minister of State of Spain. Concluded February 12, 1871

Memorandum of an arbitration for the settlement of the claims of citizens of the United States or of their heirs, against the government of Spain for wrongs and injuries committed against their persons and property, or against the persons and property of citizens of whom the said heirs are the legal representatives by the authorities of Spain, in the island of Cuba, or within the maritime jurisdiction thereof since the commencement of the present insurrection

1 It is agreed that all such claims shall be submitted to arbitrators, one to be appointed by the Secretary of State of the United States, another by the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Spain at Washington, and these two to name an umpire who shall decide all questions upon which they shall be unable to agree, and in case the place of either arbitrator or of the umpire shall from any cause become vacant, such vacancy shall be filled forthwith in the manner herein provided for the original appointment

2 The arbitrators and umpire so named shall meet at Washington within one month from the date of their appointment, and shall, before proceeding to business, make and subscribe a solemn declaration that they will impartially hear and decide, to the best of their judgment and according to public law and the treaties in force between the two countries, all these present stipulations, all such claims as shall, in conformity with this agreement, be laid before them on the part of the government of the United States, and such declaration shall be entered upon the record of their proceedings.

3 Each government may name an advocate to appear before the arbitrators or the umpire to represent the interests of parties respectively

4 The arbitrators shall have full power, subject to these stipulations, and it shall be their duty, before proceeding, with the hearing and decision of any case, to make and publish convenient rules prescribing the time and manner of the presentation of claims and of the proof thereof, and any disagreement with reference to the said rules of proceeding shall be decided by the umpire. It is understood that a reasonable period shall be allowed for the presentation of the proofs. In all claims, a little testimony in favor of them shall be presented on the government of the United States that the award in each case shall be [illegible] in [illegible] the sum to be paid [illegible] expressed in the gold coin of the United States

5 The arbitrators shall have jurisdiction of all claims presented to them by the government of the United States for injuries done to citizens of the United States by the authorities of Spain in Cuba since the first day of October 1868. Adjudications of the tribunals in Cuba concerning citizens of the United States made in the absence of the parties interested, or in violation of international law or of the guarantees and forms provided for in the treaty of October 27, 1795, between the United States and Spain may be reviewed by the arbitrators, who shall make such award in any such case as they shall deem just. No judgment of a Spanish tribunal, disallowing the affirmation of a party that he is a citizen of the United States shall prevent the arbitrators from hearing a reclamation presented in behalf of said party by the United States government. Nevertheless, in any case heard by the arbitrators, the Spanish Government may traverse the allegation of American citizenship, and thereupon competent and sufficient proof thereof will be required. The commission having recognized the quality of American citizen in the claimant, they will acquire the rights accorded to them by the present stipulations as such citizens. And it is further agreed that the arbitrators shall not have jurisdiction of any reclamation made in behalf of a native born Spanish subject, naturalized in the United States, if it shall appear that the same subject matter having been adjudicated by a competent tribunal in Cuba, and the claimant having appeared therein, either in person or by his duly appointed attorney and having required by the laws of Spain to make a declaration of his nationality failed to declare that he was a citizen of the United States, in such case, and for the purposes of this arbitration, shall be deemed and taken that the claimant by his own default, had renounced his allegiance to the United States. And it is further agreed that no arbitrators shall not have jurisdiction of any demands growing out of contracts.

6 The expenses of the arbitration will be defrayed by a percentage to be added to the amount awarded. The compensation of the arbitrators and umpire shall not exceed three thousand dollars each. The same allowance shall be made to each of the two advocates representing respectively the two governments and the arbitrators may employ a secretary at a compensation not exceeding five dollars for every day actually and necessarily given to the business of the arbitration

[illegible] the award made in the several cases submitted to the said arbitrators as final and conclusive, and will give full effect to them in good faith and as soon as possible
